Continuation of Substance of Interview including description of the general nature of what was agreed to if an agreement was reached, or any other comments: The Examiner contacted Mr. Collard in response to the amendments and arguments filed August 24, 2004. In that amendment, claim 62 had been amended to disclose a "substantially gas tight transfer support." The Examiner indicated that it was his position that this phrase was not enabled by the original disclosure. The Examiner explained that the instant specification was enabling for a "transfer support"; a "gas-tight thermoformable transfer support"; and a "transfer support realized from polyvinyl alcohol . . . which is gas-tight and thermoformable." Mr. Collard, in subsequent conversations, then suggested amending the transition phrasing of claims 62 and 70 to "consisting of" and reciting only a "transfer support." He also proposed adding additional claims with alternative transition phrasing and transfer support embodiments. The Examiner indicated that he would consider these changes when submitted as a supplemental amendment but that the new claims would be considered in light of a further search.
